Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, April 23, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

Try, my daughter, to remain in harmony.
Preserve your heart from the torments in which you find yourself.
We will only be able to communicate on this condition.

Stay the course in spite of everything. Be strong, there is no miracle solution. Preserve what is possible.

Hold out, for the love of us, this is what gives you courage.
