Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, May 20, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

What more can we say that could help you? One must always have hope, against all odds. God has unsuspected resources.

My daughter, we do not like to see you like this. Keep trusting in us, even if appearances do not encourage you to do so.

We may seem harsh, you know very well it is not so.

When a sky is at its darkest, it cannot stay that way; inevitably the sun will shine again.

Do not lose heart; we can only carry you spiritually in this difficult time.

You too have resources, do not falter.
