Wednesday, August 9, 2000 - 11:00 a.m.

here will be always detractors of the system, as well as people making criticisms around you and after you. You are doing what they cannot do; they don't have access to the planes where our contacts are established; how could they understand? Fortunately, a certain number of individuals have enough broad-mindedness to believe in you as well as in what you receive when you tune in to us. Their faith is rewarded; these beings benefit from a special transmission. Thus will be the case for those who, in the future, will lend credibility to this form of teaching. With time, it will actually be necessary to shed all light to this process. The religions will not be able indefinitely to have a monopoly on the spiritual area; each one must be able to drink from the source suited to them, without any human, dogmatic and constraining interference. 'Life' is as One! It is accessible to all, without sumptuous and complicated rituals. Times will come when light will have to prevail over the obscurantism maintained by powerful authorities. May you carry on your way with dignity, in tolerance and utmost acceptance of differences of all sorts, thus setting an example of the purest faith."

Babuji