Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, June 16, 1999 – 10:00 a.m.

You are not amazed by anything happening to you on the esoteric plane, except when you are given proof of what is said about you.

There are two lives in you: one, very much involved in the material world, concerned about all that occurs around you and in the world; the other being a personality, a kind of sage, living completely disconnected from this Earthly life.

You keep your feet on the ground, but your head is in the stars.

You await one thing, it seems: to complete this second notebook, as you call it.

We can see how much effort it requires of you; you were afraid you might not complete this work.

We are getting there. Your two children-in-heart will soon send this off 'to press'. These two are very resourceful and do not sleep on the job.

The world is theirs. They would fly to the moon, if they were asked!

We are happy to see them playing an active role in the Mission.

They are good elements in whom we put our trust.

We are going to see them at work, and we have no doubt about the results they will obtain.

They will have to travel in the future, which they will not mind; they are a bit nomadic by nature, and versatile.

If you feel brave enough to continue for the love of us, we will be there.

Do as you can, my daughter, we know that you always see things through. You are strong, we appreciate it.
