Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, July 28, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Be surrendered, my dear daughter, you can't change anything in the course of events, whether good or bad.

The wheel of life turns with its train of events, which often turn out very different from what we imagined. The only thing to be done is to ask for divine grace and take trials as blessings.

Our programme is not very heartening, certainly not to your liking, but that's the way it is.

In the future, a new world will be built.

The set up will have to be changed; you will all have to cope and adapt. It is in certain circumstances that beings truly reveal what they are.

The strongest will have to help the weakest. They will have the opportunity to show their true face.

It is easy to be kind and generous when all is well. The reaction in dramatic circumstances, in general, is 'every man for himself'.

A few sturdy souls react differently.

We are trying, in small touches, to make you all understand that the future is not rosy.

My dear children, we will always be close to you. The destiny of each one must be fulfilled.

That is the way it is, it is the divine law, and no human being can escape it.

Be at peace, my child. I carry you in my heart.

The Medium: How should I take this message, Babuji?

For what it is: a warning for the future.

Babuji
