Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 27, 2016 — 10:00 a.m.

Let yourself be carried away in the manner you know so well; these mystical flights delight your heart and allow you access to ours each day. The practice of Sahaj Marg opens the doors to this sacred space where the soul can be nourished by the substantial energy provided by our hearts, which are so attentive to this unique way. We are monitoring its course and that of the spiritual Master who became incarnate for good reason, as will be confirmed over time. Many changes will occur, allowing Sahaj Marg to substantially evolve in line with present and future times. The alliance of Masters plans well in advance and cares not only for the good of the Mission but also for the good of all our brothers and sisters who are fully engaged in this way of the heart — a way that has not yet revealed all its capabilities.

"This world will have to go through many trials in order to reach a level that is more subtle and eventually more open to the effects of divine grace. It is not easy to lead humanity to the goodness that can enable a comprehensive and substantial evolution capable of changing the face of this world. Everything will be accomplished in its own time. This requires preparation, and there lies the challenge. We are moving forward every day — in our own manner, yet one that brings about real changes. Even if they cannot be easily assessed, you can rest assured they are there. Being committed to this way in spirit is already very positive; anything done with love and surrender to the living Master bears fruit and opens up a path that is luminous and rich in its effects.

"Very special blessings to all."
