Friday, September 18, 1998 - 10:00 a.m.

(In sitting with Marie-Christine; end of a message given by Babuji.)

ach soul has the body and life necessary for its evolution."

Babuji

Sunday, September 20, 1998 - 10:30 a.m.

acqueline should not worry for her future; we watch over her. Do not lose heart, my child. We understand your fears about future times. We are doing our best to make your life easier, but it will remain mainly what it is. You must continue to set an example and to comfort your fellow creature. Blessed are those who understand you and help you. Your path is not easy, but it is luminous. When you return to your fatherland, we will be here, present, and you will be happy. Remain surrendered, my child, we love you so much, you are not alone. A solution will be found to make your life easier. It is the most important part of your life; try to manage it as well as possible. Keep smiling; we bless you, as well as your friend. Don't worry for Nicole; we will see to it that she does not do silly things."

Babuji