Are you wondering what we can still have to say? These contacts have become a habit for you and for us too. It is our way of showing you that we are not insensitive to your fate. We are worried by human beings; they are capable of doing the best as well as the worst. This world is given over to the madness of men. 'Progress' increases violence, and although there are noble souls emerging from this cesspool, we are worried about the future of humanity. God will have to hit hard to stop this mess and to bring humans back to more wisdom. Pray for a better future where spirituality could help your brothers plunged into the darkness of a devastating materialism. Help us, not only by your prayers and an assiduous practice, but also by an edifying behaviour, which encourages those who are seeking to follow the same process. Set an example of tolerance, faith and love; you will serve a great cause."
