Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, September 20, 1998 – 10:30 a.m.

Jacqueline should not worry for her future; we watch over her. Do not lose heart, my child. We understand your fears about the times ahead. We are doing our best to make your life easier, but it must remain, for the most part, as it is. You must continue to set an example and to comfort your fellow beings. Blessed are those who understand you and help you. Your path is not easy, but it is radiant. When you return to your homeland, we will be here, present, and you will be happy. Be in a state of surrender, my child, we love you so much, you are not alone. A solution will be found to make things easier for you. It is the most important part of your life; try to manage it as well as possible. Keep smiling; we bless you, as well as your friend. Don't worry for Nicole; we will see to it that she does not do silly things.
