Render thanks to God for being chosen by my son. The laws of the heart are powerful. This relationship between him and you is beautiful and productive. If read attentively, the resulting series of messages provides a teaching accessible to all. This way of love of yours, you have been constantly assertive about it; it embellishes your life. That is where it can lead and what it is able to generate.

"Carry on your way in this hidden fervour, which stimulates you and gives you courage to advance. Remain in the same spirit, you have my blessing."

"My Revered Master values the work done so far. We would like it to develop differently. We await a favourable moment for that. Nothing should be rushed with human beings. You all are subjected to currents and counter-currents of thoughts as well as various energies. All must be settled and become clearer.

"You should note, my dear daughter, that you have done a good job. The crop is good; you can be delighted. We know that you do not attribute any merit to yourself. We can express ourselves on this point, without giving you any egotistic satisfaction and we appreciate that. That is what we wanted to tell you today, with due respect to your modesty."
