The human being often ventures on tortuous paths before taking the right direction. This is man's characteristic; he must find his way after multiple experiments, sometimes painful. That's how his personality is shaped, which leads him to seeking a truth that starts to be obvious to him. He feels this lack, which a life centred on materialism provides him. His deepest being is in need; it aspires to fill this gap by a process and a knowledge which can satisfy him. That is when he will start a search that will be able to bring him to the highest level, if his aspiration is strong enough. Each one receives what they are able to receive. A sincere and constant call must be made so that it can be heard; then the way will be cleared before him and will be adapted to his level of evolution. He will perhaps come towards us. Do you realize how lucky he is? Is it not a grace to be in a non-constraining way, which makes you advance without requiring big efforts? There's no limit to what you can hope for, if you carry out your work heartily. We do everything possible to meet your expectations. We can see the heart of your hearts and they receive according to their inner state."

"It is necessary to answer evil with love. Sahaj Marg enters a new era whose effects will not be felt immediately. Its strength will manifest itself more and more in the future."
