Whispers from The Brighter World
A Fourth Revelation

Saturday, October 28, 2000 - 8:00 a.m.

You have understood the true meaning of life. On this point, one can say that your incarnation is successful. You know what you must do and where you must go. A lot of your fellow creatures have not reached that point. Understanding how and why is an advantage, but one still has necessarily to go in the right direction. To hold one's course in spite of everything denotes great wisdom.

"In your tormented civilisations, a lot of human beings are totally confused and lose their sense of reality. All is artificial and misleading; you are constantly assailed by aggressive pictures and sounds.

"It is not easy in such conditions to keep one's balance.

"Inner peace is accordingly threatened by this dangerous pervading excitement. All is disconcerting for man who moves away from true values, as he is caught in this pseudo-culture.

"Wise men who manage to protect themselves are commendable.

"Nomads, who advance in the desert, have to fight against natural elements; they know what to keep to. They are not cut off from life, from this presence that lives in them and hardly puts up with the jumble of modern life.

"The true nature of each one can emerge, in spite of all, in this mad world.

"It is the challenge that today's man must take up."
