Wednesday, November 1, 2000 - 10:00 AM

Do the previous words leave you serene? In the depths of your being, prepare for continuing the progress by speeding things up. You must prepare for it with meticulous care; you know exactly what must be done. It is up to you to act accordingly. A retreat would be welcome.

"Be in tune with the inner Master as much as possible. Listen to Him in inner peace and worship; only He is worth worshiping. He is the centre of the universe, the point that relates the human being, the creature, to his Creator.

"This approach takes place in silence, confidence and surrender. These virtues are your guardian angels, among which love is the major one, the most powerful guiding element, which opens many doors.

"You know it all, we have told it again and again, but for the occasion, it is good to remind you that love is a unique power that can carry you beyond your expectations.

"Cultivate relentlessly the spread of its action within you and you will see the result."

Babuji